Hi Rob,
I'm the first to sign your yearbook!
We've been through a lot together, huh? Starting back in 9th grade. We're finally made it and we are the survivors. It's great having a friend like you. Lets see, how many classes have we had together? Algebra, English, Intermediate algebra, College Algebra, I cannot remember the rest of all Europe. We had the school play (Annie) but I won't. Don't forget the whole month together. We have much opportunity to spend a whole month together. We had a great time. May your being your friend and yours. And when you look back at your life for you and the future always will be as much success in your look in the future and when you look back at your life for you and the future always will be as much success in your look in the future and when you look back at your life for you and the future always will be as much success in your look in the future and

Rob,
I hope you won't be to lonely while the group and I are gone. Should I get sentimental on you. Nahhh that wouldn't be right, but I will say, that you are one of the few people who I can joke around with who won't immediatly bag on me. Stay that way, alright? Well, I'll be talking to you later.

allen (fingers)

Rob -

Tell me this Rob, was the prom awesome, or was the prom awesome? Hey, I really want to thank you for helping me out that night (of course, it's your fault that I needed help in the first place - but enough for that).

I really feel special to have friends like you - People who you might not see for months - and the next time you do, they treat you like you've never been away.

Best wishes to you, Rob - you deserve the best that this world has to offer.

Keep in touch (425-4636)

Only The Best

A tradition that is unmistakably found at Lakewood High School is that no matter what the task, Lancers will tackle it with gusto. LHS students have won recognition throughout the southland for their superior academic, athletic and personal achievements. The administration, faculty and staff have motivated students to reach beyond their limits and attain goals that require determination, dedication and resolve. With strong, positively-directed personal attitudes, Lancers have become respected workers and leaders in their own community as well as throughout the world. They study, work, practice and play with such enthusiasm that their attitudes are called the "Big Red Spirit". That spirit is pride — pride in becoming and being the best.

1. The girls in the JV YELL SQUAD perform the perfect mount during a noon rally. 2. Computer proficiency was gained by ANNE MACDONALD and TED STRONG in the school's new computer lab. 3. An exceptional sense of balance is displayed by SCOTT BITTEROLF as he cruises through the quad. 4. "Wild and Crazy" MR. HOLZMAN accepts a sociology collage from LOU LEVASA. 5. RODNEY JOHNSON makes an awesome jump on his motorcycle. 6. LAKEWOOD HIGH SCHOOL: home of today's Lancers and tomorrow's leaders. 7. Outpacing their Jordan opponents, TRACY TRAIL and ROBERTA MARICICH finish a grueling cross country race.

Discover the Frontiers

Discovering new frontiers meant reaching out beyond the familiar. It meant practicing long hours until the execution was perfect. It meant meeting new people, studying new concepts, visiting new places. A new frontier was anything untried that a Lancer decided to tackle — a new job, a new language, a new sport, a new class. The process of discovery was involved in driving for the first time, living in a new neighborhood or country, or finding that difficult unknown in chemistry class. It was preparing today to reach beyond and tackle an exciting, challenging and changing world. It was frustrating, fun and rewarding. Most of all, it was striving to achieve the best!

1. Future Lancers are carefully studied by MRS. MCEACHEN'S parent and child class. 2. HATH LEUTH and his friends enjoy a nutritious lunch in the cafeteria. 3. The frontiers of weightlifting are discovered by CRAIG PIERCE. 4. AFS'r ANNA VALLE gets a warm Lancer welcome from DR. JOHN ERRATT. 5. On their first day at Lakewood, incoming sophomores were made to feel at ease by MRS. BROWN. 6. MARTY BRIDGES and MRS. SANDERS discuss the importance of a Space Club project. 7. TRACY STALLINGS became an expert in the study of cellular structures with the help of MR. RILEY. 8. In his slide for home, JEFF CANADY stirs up some dust. 9. MR. JURGENSEN shows TODD FRANK that he is still in shape when it comes to out-maneuvering an opponent.

Create A Masterpiece

In 1983-84, Lakewood High School was the home of 2,506 individuals who expressed their creative talents in myriad forms. Some expressed themselves eloquently in words, written or spoken, in the classroom or on the stage. Fleeting impressions were captured through the eye of the camera or by the hand of the artist. The sounds of Lancer life were harmonized by the various musical groups and vocalists. Dancers and athletes strove to express their talents in performances and in competition. The culinary arts were perfected by creative chefs and appreciated by all who sampled their concoctions. These varied efforts combined to meet the same end; they made LHS a dynamic and interesting place to be.

1. The MADRIGALS, under the expert guidance of MR. CLEMENS, ascended the steps to excellence. 2. AMY PINKERTONshows off her artistic talent by sketching MARIO BRESNAHAN in her drawing and painting class. 3. A quick and delicious breakfast is whipped together by MIKE BROWN, CHRIS CHENARIDES and MIKE OLIVERIO. 4. The DRUMMERS look especially sharp in their new tuxedos as they perform during half-time. 5. Advanced dancers TAMMY BUMGARNER, KATHY WALSH and LESLIE FORD form a centerpiece during rehearsals for the spring dance concert. 6. CARLETTA REPROGLE is PAT McCANN's choice for the perfect portrait subject in photography class. 7. Eloquent speaking talents were evident when HOWARD COOPER delivered his oration.

Make the Investment

Any good investment pays a handsome return; the years spent at Lakewood High School were no exception. They were an investment in the future. Lancers prepared themselves by accepting the challenges of academic classes, such as advanced placement history, which would afford them the opportunity to save time and money in college. Leaders of the many student organizations on campus gained experience in planning, organizing, managing and working toward the achievement of common goals and ideals. Courses such as computer programming and drafting provided the opportunity to gain practical, marketable skills. The wise investment of time and effort paid big dividends.

1. MR. MEDNICK leads his advanced placement history class to intellectual victory. 2. The CABINET was often found to be the hardest working group on campus. 3. The LANCE STAFF takes time out from its arduous duties to pose for the photographer. 4. Under MR. FLYNN'S direction, TODD BRUNING, JAMIE BARCUS and SUSIE JACKSON learn the basics of computer programming. 5. ROTC presents a colorful display of the flags at the Milk Bowl. 6. MRS. BROWN guides P.R.I.D.E. Club members VERONICA GALLAGHER, MIKE REYES, YVONNE LEWIS and JULIE GREETHONG on how to improve human relations. 7. MRS. COOKE'S efficient assistance inspires MATT ELLIOTT and JESS QUINTANIALLA to read more. 8. Coach JOHN HERBOLD is rewarded for his years of dedicated service by Lakewood Mayor PAUL ZELTNER and LHS principal HELEN Z. HANSEN. 9. Candy striper TRICIA WALKER spends many hours as a hospital volunteer.

Reach Out

Lakewood High School has always been a place where people count. The administration and staff maintained a policy of being accessible, open to suggestions and promoting new ideas. Students were especially aware of the necessity to reach out to help a fellow student, a neighbor or a friend. The idea that two heads or hands were better than one promoted working together at every level of the school. Whether it was an individual or a group effort, all Lancers reached out in a caring and sharing way. Lakewood High School was the place where people made the difference.

1. MR. BRASSER registers disbelief as he attempts to balance class sizes. 2. KRISTIN WEATHERMON and DEANNA VINCELLO are really tied up on the office PBX. 3. The PTA drive was a major success for MR. LYMAN and MRS. OTTO. 4. MR. HAMILTON cruises the campus on his "easy rider" bicycle and in his latest chopper outfit. 5. MR. HOWEY explains the intricacies of the Varitype machine to PHAL TUY and JIEJEN HSIAO. 6. MRS. KARCHER shows STEVE CASTRO the basics of scooping popcorn. 7. Rust removal from a '53 Chevy was no problem for J.J. MATSON and CRAIG FOURNIER. 8. MR. SHAVER'S constant smile was a big Lakewood asset.

Nobody Does It Better

Big Red Pride is legendary. It was evident everywhere at LHS — in its traditions, its events, its style. Performing groups, such as the LHS band, rifle squad and pepsters, helped keep the Lancer traditions alive and going strong. The annual pancake breakfast held by the Booster Club was a huge success. The newest symbol of Big Red Country was the exciting addition of a new scoreboard for the stadium. In a time when many schools complained of apathy or disinterest, LHS students banded together to prove that nobody does it better than the Lakewood Lancers.

1. A noon rally is started with a bang by the RIFLE SQUAD. 2. VARSITY CHEER performs its rendition of "WAIL". 3. Drum Major ALLEN SCHWARZBACH directs the multi-talented LANCER BAND. 4. The mighty LANCER encourages the spirits of LISA EDWARDS and DIANE DRAKE. 5. SONG is artfully animated as it does an exquisite routine. 6. The new stadium scoreboard registed the tallies for an undefeated football season. 7. The Booster Club's sportschair provides a comfortable seat for MRS. HANSEN. 8. Graduation, the culmination of twelve years of diligent studying, is anxiously awaited by ROBIN RIBAYA and TED MALLEY.

Find the Solutions

From Tron to trig and typing to transmissions, students and teachers tackled new problems with gusto. The courses offered at LHS presented new challenges for everyone. There were many new languages to master: foreign languages, notational languages, programming languages, technical languages and a special emphasis was given this year to the English language. Teachers were always willing to interpret the results of an experiment, a math problem, a set of technical instructions or a bit of prose. Counselors and staff interpreted schedules, career choices and college applications, as well as giving direction to anyone who felt a little bit lost. After school, many Lancers lost themselves (and sometimes their quarters!) in hobbies ranging from video games to car repair. On campus and off, the solutions to the problems presented new directions and opportunities.

1. MRS. SLAGLEY gives some helpful advice to CHRIS ARNDT. 2. MIKE ROMERO shows his skill in a game of Dragon's Lair. 3. MR. SHAFER assists LAURA JIMENEZ during a lab experiment. 4. Keeping his supersharp Camaro in top condition was the solution for MARK SINCLAIR. 5. MRS. DAVIS controls the recorder as TEVY DOUNG takes dictation. 6. Incredible strength is shown by SEAN GOODMAN and SAM CLARK. 7. MR. KREBS gives ANDY RIETVELD sage advice concerning industrial design. 8. MIKE OLIVERIO trains hard for the next MR. UNIVERSE contest. 9. The "Goddess of AP", MRS. KEPHART, is overwhelmed by the offerings from her admiring literature students.

Civilized Pleasures

One of the most pleasant moments to look forward to at lunch or the end of the day was the one in which a favorite activity or place was shared with someone special. The list of things to do and places to go was almost endless. There were old favorites, like a day at the beach or a picnic in the park. For those with plenty of cash, there was no shortage of fine dining establishments. In addition to movies at local theaters, there were more exotic destinations, such as amusement parks, miniature golf courses and seaside villages. The favorite of all, however, was the simpler pleasure of sharing a quiet walk together.

1. After a long day at school, CINDY WILDT and BRAD STEVESON enjoy a romantic afternoon of laughing and splashing. 2. JOHN STEVENS shows the way for SUSAN MILLS' putt. 3. RICK STALLINGS and LESLIE ANDERSON make friends with CAPT'N. ANDY at Rivertowne. 4. Visiting the Spruce Goose was an overwhelming experience for JEFF CANADY and DEBBIE VICKERY. 5. CHRIS ARNOLD phones in BARBARA TAYLOR'S order at 'Round the Corner. 6. SANDRA PAYTON and TIM ROBINETT share their sweetness at the candy shop. 7. JIM WEEKS and TINA SWAN spend a special moment together. 8. A picnic at the park was one of the precious times enjoyed by STEVE PARKMAN and CHERYL SOUTHERLAND. 9. THOMAS PRUITT and JANELLE BISHOP pose for a memorable portrait taken by MR. MELLENCAMP.

Day of the Lancers

Getting up was never easy, especially since a day in the life of a Lancer began at 7:58 a.m. Fortunately, that usually meant that snack came a little earlier too. While many Lancers gathered to gossip at nutrition, others concentrated on getting last-minute answers for a government exam. Many Lakewood students spent part of their day at one of the many offerings in the Regional Occupational Program; they learned diverse skills that ranged from horticulture to bicycle repair. Lunch was a favorite part of the day for almost everyone. After school came homework, a job for some or a little time to spend relaxing and enjoying the company of friends.

1. TERRANCE SAM gets the answer from MISS HUMMER. 2. TAMMY LEWIS orders her hot fudge sundae, while STEVE JOHNSON ponders the menu. 3. A personal stereo provides a pleasant break in the school day for HEATHER YEE. 4. All of the fancy autos come to the Bubble Machine to get gas from HEATHER CRONE. 5. TODD HERMAN has a sweet tooth for flavored popcorn. 6. PAT BENKO spends some free time perfecting his bowling game. 7. A moment at snack is used by ROBERT YI to study for a physics test. 8. HEATHER CLISBY, CHRIS MARTIN and ROBIN RIBAYA attract quite a lunchtime crowd.

Lancer Ingenuity

When the going got tough, the Lancers got going. A new problem presented new opportunities and a chance to devise a creative solution. Rules regarding eligibility to participate in extra-curricular activities required a C average. This rule, combined with a renewed emphasis on homework, led many students to find new and more efficient study habits. Studying, however, was not the only way Lancers spent their time. Whether it was first-hand experience like a mock wedding, or a more subtle lesson like learning how to shop for bargains, Lakewood students were ingenious in accomplishing the task.

1. BRIAN O'NEILL takes the hand of TAMMY HERRMAN during a mock wedding in effective living class. 2. The hottest "bugs" around are driven by KELLY GOODWIN, BRIAN FARBER, SEAN GOODMAN and ROSIE PEREZ. 3. The new C-average eligibility rule spiked academic interests in football players such as TOM BUSCH and MIKE WHEELER. 4. MARK QUICK prepares to take underwater pictures of the water polo players. 5. CRISTINA RIZZI and HEIDI RIEDMAN get into the pumpkin spirit. 6. LAURIE REYNOLDS shows deep concentration as she finishes her crafts project. 7. KRISTIAN LEIDICH is found in his natural habitat. 8. MIKE WARZYBOK, LAURA FREY and MARK SECHSER cruise the campus on their three-seater. 9. JOE ADAMS brings BRIAN FARBER to the mat for the count. 10. ROBIN BANCROFT is caught by GARFIELD mania.

A Step Ahead

Fashions in 1984 ranged from preppy to preposterous. The "flashdance" look, slightly ragged sweatshirt included, was very popular. Mini-skirts continued to be a real favorite with both the gals and the guys. The surfer look, which has been around since "Beach Blanket Bingo", continued to be popular. For those with the budgets, the GQ and preppy looks were "in", and shorts went with shirts bearing almost any mammal or reptile on the lefthand side. To really stand out in a crowd, some Lancers donned the psychedelic style or adopted the mod mode. The only summary of the 1984 fashion news would be that almost anything went.

1. TOM NANTAIS, JILL INGRAM, BRENT LAURITSEN, MARY CLARK, MIKE YOUNG SMA and JOLENE KANE possess "quarterly" style. 2. The ultimate preppies are JODI BLAKE, JULIE POOLE, STEVE SEARS, CHRISTY SUNDIN and DONNA PEHOSKI. 3. The "dress-look" returns to LHS thanks to LETITIA ARCHIE, KIM WOODWARD, CONNIE SENA, LORI ROWLAND, KATHY WALSH and WENDY CLARK. 4. DANA HOOTEN, GEOFF BARTON and MIKE WHITNEY were frequently caught in casual shorts and polo shirts. 5. JEFF LAING, ROBERT SALAZAR, DAVE MANNING and TED STRONG are excited by the latest centerfold of a surfboard. 6. MIKE YOUNGSMA asks PATTY BROOKS for some "hair" advice as a security officer prepares to arrest him. 7. MICHELLE LOTT, Bullock's Campus Representative, always dresses in the latest styles. 8. The "psychedelic" fad is a hit with KATH WILMSHURST, GREG ERNST, SUSAN PRATTE, SANDY MARTIN and DAVE BLACKBURN. 9. The "flashdance" craze is modeled by DIANA McPEAK, TAMMY BUMGARNER, JENNIFER DRAKE, PIPER MACKAY, DANA HOOTEN, JOSIE DONEGAN and KARI MANN.

Oh! You Kids!

If it were fun, it was in. If it were crazy, it was in. What was "in" in 1984? Almost anything old, almost anything plastic, almost anything with an engine and gasoline in it, almost anything that went in, on, over or under anything with an engine and gasoline in it were in. And, almost anything that proclaimed "Lancers #1". From Vespas to cordless phones, from theme restaurants to pizza palaces, the variety of toys and activities available to Lancers was huge. Jazzercize, jogging and weightlifting were especially popular pastimes. There was something "in" for every Lancer in 1984.

1. DENNIS ARCHAMBAULT, ANDREA ROSALES, CHRIS WADE and KIM GOODMAN frequently tour the campus on their Vespas. 2. KIM SADLER prepares for a rainy day with her Izod umbrella collection. 3. Gumby, spirit buttons, personalized license plates, plastic shoes and bags, and paste-on stickers were some of the more popular fads of 1984. 4. JEFF LAING and SCOTT OLSEN share a lunch in the cafeteria annex. 5. CHRISTY DROWN phones home with a little help from the latest cordless communication device. 6. BILL PUTREN fine-tunes his Odyssey before a weekend trip to the mountains. 7. One of the latest crazes, break dancing, allows GARY RUDNICK, CRAIG McDONALD and SCOTT FERGUSON to show off their stuff. 8. MATT PAUL scores while playing high ball at Golf 'n' Stuff.

Life in the Fast Lane

Weekends only came once every five days and only lasted for two, so Lancers had to savor every minute. Besides work and homework, there were countless diversions to enjoy. Some students enjoyed competition in racing, rodeos and various shows. Others looked forward to heading to the beach, the desert or the local mountains. The US concert series was very popular, while movies and cable television specials also had a large following. The one activity that everyone enjoyed on the weekend was getting a little extra sleep.

1. MONICA DE CILLIS, DONNA FAY and ROBBIE LASSERS take a moment to ponder the history surrounding the Greek Parthenon. 2. Shearing sheep was one of the lessons learned by MIKE WARZYBOK during the summer he spent "down under" as an AFS'r. 3. DAVE MANNING shows off his surfing ability at Huntington Beach. 4. MR. WOOD prays for forgiveness from Sheriff's Explorer BOB MORAN. 5. JOCIE PROCTOR and her steed perform admirably at the national horse show. 6. BRAD STEVESON'S rooster tail impresses the spectators at Lake Millerton. 7. CHRIS BLACHOWICZ prepares to plunge from a Naples bridge.

Fast Times At Lakewood High

Although academic achievement was the primary goal of Lakewood High School, there seemed to be some moments left for having a great time. Special occasions such as Halloween and St. Patrick's Day lent themselves to bringing out Lancer originality. Costumes from the sublime to the ridiculous were worn by staff and students alike. Sometimes it was just the need to act a little crazy and take the tension off of growing up in a fast-paced society. The fast times proved to be the fun times, and they will not soon be forgotten.

1. MONICA WALKER gasps in shock at KIM WOODWARD'S costume. 2. DR. SHICKLER kicks back for a moment to tell one of his great jokes. 3. BRIAN FARBER gets as wet as his car. 4. Fast times were apparently not hard times for JOHN BERGENDAHL. 5. JIM CLEARY and SHELLY DROWN take a fast trip into the stratosphere. 6. LISA EDWARDS gets a helping hand with her CITADEL project. 7. CINDY MATHEWSON, SANDRA PAYTON, ROBIN PEAVY and CYNDEE WILDT celebrate Halloween by wearing imaginative costumes. 8. MRS. BASS dresses as the "Wicked Witch of the West" to discourage truancies.

The Taste Of Success

Success is not a gift; it is earned. Success is achieved only by effort, and even then it is not guaranteed. The LHS spirit is a dedication to success, to the pursuit of excellence. Making an A on a tough trig test, scoring the final goal in a soccer match, finding the impossible unknown in chem lab, meeting your best friend for lunch in the quad, having an undefeated football season, talking with an administrator about the future were all ingredients in a successful year. Success meant reaching deep inside and bringing out the best, whether it was an individual or group effort. In 1984, the Lancers were successful and did bring out the best.

1. A jack-knife dive proves successful for JERRY FRIEDMAN. 2. MIKE REYES sells pretzels to JANET BEST and SABRINA PINDER during snack. 3. MRS. RIGARD admires the "hot wheels" that belong to VICTOR WILLIAMS and GREG OGLESBY. 4. JOSEPH PHEARS and DAVID RIMA perform an awesome high five. 5. MR. FLOOD, a senior counselor at last, helps PAULA KEMBALL and DEBBIE VICKERY prepare for the SAT. 6. Sailing over the high hurdles was KATHY JOHNSON'S special forte. 7. PARTY CARVALHO, an outstanding soccer player, booms in for another goal. 8. MRS. HANSEN proudly presents medallion diplomas to two exceptional graduates, DAN DAVIS and HEATHER GILLILAND.

The Queen and Her Court

Tension mounted as Mr. Lyman, the activities director, began revealing the 1983 homecoming princesses. Coach Bresnahan then awarded the symbolic football and title of "Mr. Touchdown" to John Salazar. Finally, the moment all had awaited arrived. Through the silence of the crowded stands came the name of Lakewood's 1983 homecoming queen, Chrissie Kaveney. Tears flowed, smiles beamed and the audience roared as the queen and her court reigned with radiance and pride.

1. Proud fathers escort their royal daughters to the pre-game festivities. 2. Mr. Touchdown — JOHN SALAZAR. 3. The 1983 Homecoming Queen — CHRISSIE KAVENEY. 4. The Queen and Her Court. 5. Senior Princess — HEATHER CLISBY. 6. Senior Princess — KRISTI HANNS. 7. Junior Princess — SHARILL HANNS. 8. Sophomore Princess — CHRISSY STRONG.

Homecoming 1983

With a 23 skidoo, Lakewood celebrated its twenty-sixth homecoming based on the theme: "The Roaring '20s". The spirits started to flow on Monday with a morning rally and class competitions in zig-zag ball, the egg drop and a gunny sack race. Tuesday was old uniform day; Wednesday was reserved for mourn Poly day, a water balloon toss, pie-eating contests and efforts to shave the balloons. The charleston dance contest and roaring '20s costume day were huge successes. Chaos reigned Thursday night as students raced to create colorful booths and floats before the midnight deadline. Homecoming day saw an overflow crowd of alumni, teachers and students partake of the homecoming faire. The entire event was an unqualified success.

1. MIKE MENDEZ gives a balloon a close shave. 2. DEBBIE LUJAN discovers that banana cream pie is not her favorite. 3. MRS. FRANK mourns for Poly. 4. Knickers and flappers return to popularity. 5. The senior float shows what happens to Jackrabbits found in Big Red Country. 6. AFS'rs sell CRISTINA RIZZI bootleg bombers. 7. MR. SHAFER looks less than pleased with prison fare. 8. The queen, her court and their escorts stand for the Alma Mater. 9. DIANE DRAKE and LISA EDWARDS do some fancy '20s moves. 10. LORI SHROTMAN and her friends decide to sit this dance out. 11. The big red machine carries the pepsters onto the field.

Pep Leaders

Lancer pep leaders did an outstanding job of organizing, managing and supervising the high-spirited groups. The co-ordination required for the assembly of all of the various groups, including the band, was an awesome responsibility. Each group had a special routine, day and night uniforms, certain music and an allotted period of time in which to perform. The execution by all of the groups was especially fine considering all of these variables. The leaders of each group were the ones most responsible for the success of each performance.

1. CHRISSIE KAVENEY and JANICE RAINER headed Lakewood's varsity and JV yell squads. 2. HEATHER CLISBY, ROBIN RIBAYA and RENATE DIXON show the crowd how to do the funky chicken. 3. The Bannerettes show their school spirit with a rousing chorus of the Alma Mater. 4. Flag and song heads KIM WOODWARD and LISA EDWARDS kept the girls in step. 5. Drum Major ALLEN SCHWARZBACH and Captain ROBIN DAVIS headed the band and drill divisions. 6. The Rifle Squad was among the most active pep groups. 7. Drill team managers included CONNIE SENA, SUSAN ESPINOSA and DONNA INGHAM. 8. VERONICA GALLAGHER, TONYA GREEN, ROBIN DAVIS, SUSAN BELANGER, TRACI FLETCHER and CHRISTI SUNDIN headed the separate divisions of the drill team. 9. SCOTT BITTEROLF masqueraded throughout the year as Lakewood's mascot.

Cheer/Majorette/Song/Flag

Lakewood has the spirit! Yes it does! The backbone of this spirit was undoubtedly the Lancer pep groups. From the musical routines of song and flag to the rhythmic chants of the yell squads, the fans at rallies and games were motivated to clap, stomp and cheer the Lancers on to their many victories. The baton twirling feats of majorette Kristi Hanns kept the people mesmerized. Throughout the year the pride, dedication and zeal of Lakewood's pep groups kept spirits high and adrenalin flowing.

1. JV Yell: MICHELLE DAVIDLOO, DEBBIE LUJAN, JANICE RAINER, JULIE ROOT, MARIE KENNEDY, BARBARA TAYLOR. 2. The pepsters finish another rally. 3. Varsity Yell: CHRISSIE KAVENEY, ROBIN RIBAYA, MONICA WALKER, RENATE DIXON, LISA FULTON, MICHELLE CASTILLO, HEATHER CLISBY, ROSEMARY GARD, SHARILL HANNS. 4. Majorette: KRISTI HANNS. 5. Song: ROSE PEREZ, DIANE DRAKE, LISA EDWARDS, KATHY WALSH, PAULA KEMBALL, KELLY GOODWIN. 6. KATHY WALSH dances her way through a difficult routine. 7. The JV Yell Squad rests between cheers. 8. Orchestra

As the orchestra responded to the enthusiastic direction of Lakewood's new conductor, Mr. John Hannan, some of the most melodious music the school has ever heard was played by the expert music makers. The separation of the strings and woodwinds from the brass and percussion sections made Monday night rehearsals a necessity. Concert mistress Heather Gilliland was instrumental in bringing fine sounds from the various sections. The many long hours of practice were well invested; performances by the orchestra at assemblies, concerts and in the spring musical were among the highlights of the school year.

1. Woodwinds: C. GARRISON, L. GATES, R. DIXON, J. HYNES. 2. Flutes: T. SEDLAK, R. DIXON, M. KENDALL, J. RIOS. 3. Cellos: M. MOREY, T. FRANK, G. UNDERHILL, N. LARRONDO. 4. Violins: FIRST ROW: H. Band

Talent, dedication, diligence and pride were four of the most important requirements to be a member of the Lakewood High School Marching Band. Although the talent sometimes needed polishing, there was an abundance of good musicians in the band. A special dedication to the band and to the school was necessary, also; these Lancers spent a great amount of time practicing for their many performances. Diligence in learning the music and routines was a requisite for each band member. Finally, every member was proud not only of the music he produced and the uniform he wore, but proud of representing LHS.

1. Also Saxophones and Melephones: A. CHEEKS, M. WHITNEY, W. WRIGHT, B. CLARK. 2. The trumpets herald the beginning of a rally. 3. Flutes: FIRST ROW: K. SCHIER, L. McDONALD, N. LEONARD, C. Vocal Music

The vocal musicians provided Lancers with some of the highlights of the year; long hours of practice and memorization of melodies were evident in the quality of the music. Back-to-School Night saw the introduction of the premiere musical group, the Second Chapter Singers. Their fine renditions equally pleased parents and students. They were joined by the A Capella and Concert Choirs in a particularly memorable Christmas program. The finale of the year was the presentation of the school musical, "Annie Get Your Gun!" In this endeavor, the department achieved a new level of excellence in both effort and execution. Every Lancer was especially proud of the vocal musicians and their director, Mr. Marc Clemens.

1. STEVE BARNDT, STEVEN NEWTON and TONY LOLCOMA lead the Christmas songfest presented by the Second Chapter Singers. 2. The beautiful setting for the program was only surpassed by the excellent singing. 3. LORI WICKHAM and NOSHIN AFROOKHTEH sing from the heart for Lakewood parents. 4. MR. MARC CLEMENS was the underlying inspiration for the musical groups. 5. The Second Chapter Singers. 6. The A Cappella Choir. 7. MR. CLEMENS emphasizes a musical point. 8. JENNIFER LOOMIS leads the chorus. 9. The Concert Choir. 10. MARK QUICK and GLORIA ELLIOTT reach for the high notes. 11. The conductor implores the girls to take a bow.

"Annie Get Your Gun"

In the 1890s, the greatest attraction in Buffalo Bill's Wild West Show is Frank Butler, champion sharpshooter. In Cincinnati, however, Butler unexpectedly meets his match in the person of Annie Oakley, a backwoods girl whose shooting prowess in incredible. In a shooting match with Frank, Annie beats him when he misses one shot, but hopelessly falls in love with him at the same time. To be near him, she accepts a job as Frank's assistant. The trials and tribulations of the romance see Frank move to Pawnee Bill's rival show, a grand tour of Europe where Annie wows the crowned heads and, finally, a merger between Pawnee Bill and Buffalo Bill which reunites the lovers. As time goes by, Frank is won by Annie's devotion and decides to make her his partner.

1. ANNIE and KIDS return from a hunting expedition. 2. FRANK BUTLER attempts to convince the townspeople that he's a bad, bad man. 3. FRANK finally pops the question. 4. CHARLEY and his friends explain that there's no business like show business. 5. The cast of "ANNIE GET YOUR GUN". 6. FRANK tells the boys that his defenses against love are down. 7. SITTING BULL is interested in another scalp. 8. ANNIE brags on how she got lost in Frank's arms.

"The Outcasts of Poker Flat"

It is 1850 . . . somewhere in the Sierras . . . little food . . . freezing temperatures . . . five trapped people in a rustic cabin . . . will they survive? Bret Harte's play, "The Outcasts of Poker Flat", portrays four people who have been ostracized from their hometown. Uncle Billy, a none too pretty fellow, is the town drunk. Mother Shipton is exiled because she is the proprietress of the Silver Slipper Saloon. Handsome John Oakhurst's only vice is that he plays poker too well. The Duchess, one of Shipton's "girls", rounds out the foursome. They are visited by a young couple; all are concerned with survival. The quality of this year's play was exceptional.

1. The "outcasts" share a peaceful moment. 2. Uncle Billy's cruelty shocks Mother Shipton. 3. John Oakhurst is unmercifully attacked by Uncle Billy. 4. John Oakhurst and the Duchess became lovers. 5. Tom Simpson and Piney Woods arrive at the barren cabin. 6. Hatred develops between Mother Shipton and Uncle Billy. 7. The Cast of Characters. 8. The poker game begins at the Golden Garter Gambling Palace. 9. The cast and directors of "The Outcasts of Poker Flat".

Cabinet

From the opening success of the sophomore picnic to the last tear shed at graduation, the Lakewood High School student body cabinet was the group that performed the behind-the-scenes magic necessary for the smooth operation of student events. Working on a democratic basis, they voted on the approval of many new clubs and fund raisers. Colorful posters made by the cabinet kept the spirits high and the student body informed. Especially important events conducted by the student council included homecoming, the winter formal, club day and the prom. These outstanding events were a small indication of the time, energy and effort put forth by Activities Director Dennis Lyman and the '83-'84 cabinet.

LANCE

"Extra! Extra! Read all about LHS!" Under the expert editing of Jodi Blake, the LANCE staff rolled out 12 exciting issues to inform the student body of campus events. From homecoming festivities to the latest baseball scores, this publication had it all. A new format, the use of color, well-written stories and exciting photography combined to make the 1984 editions among the best in the school's history. Advisor Richard Garretson kept the staff on the ball; he relied on page editors John Markwith, Dan Davis, Jean Bulicz and Shelley Froyd to fill their columns with informative copy. Bill Jones kept readers in stitches with his comical cartoons. With the joint effort of all, the '83-'84 LANCE was a leader in journalistic excellence.

1. The page editors were JOHN MARKWITH, JEAN BULICZ, DAN DAVIS and SHELLEY FROYD. 2. The LANCE staff practices togetherness. 3. Advisor MR. Citadel

Who are those puckish gnomes who accomplish an "annual" miracle by producing the Citadel? They're not really elfin characters at all, but a playful band of twenty-five Lancers who were selected because of their school activities, academic standing, special talents and excellent attendance records. The tasks that these impish people perform include drawing layouts, cropping photographs, writing copy and making sure each student is shown in the yearbook. Assistance from the entire school, especially teachers and coaches, is instrumental to the success of the final product. The gnomes worked extra hours to make the 1984 Citadel one of the best.

1. Yearbook editors were LISA EDWARDS, CHRISSIE KAVENEY, JEFF NIELSEN, JOHN HAYGOOD and JOHN MARKWITH. 2. Sports editor ROBERT ALVES checks on CHRIS BLACHOWICZ'S work. 3. ERIC RUMMEL proved a great foil for KATHY JOHNSON'S jokes. 4. MATT PAUL smiled a lot; did he know a secret? 5. Student life editor SANDRA PAYTON and CINDY MATHEWSON were two of the most dedicated staffers. 6. The CITADEL line-up. 7. "ROBESPIERRE" WOOD reigned with terror at deadline time. 8. The cropping whizzes included SCOTT OLSEN, STEVE AYERS and JOHN TORRES. 9. KRIS LEIDICH and CHRIS DROWN kept the sports table moving. 10. Classes were compiled by KRIS KOHLHAAS, SANDY MARTIN, KRISTI HANNS and LORI SHROTMAN.

Winter Formal

On January 6, 1984, the California Room of the Long Beach Convention Center came alive with the music and excitement of Lakewood's winter dance. The student council spent many hours planning the social event of the winter season. Tuxedos and long dresses were de rigueur for the evening; many couples also enjoyed exquisite meals in the best restaurants prior to the event. However, the dance floor was the place to be as the sounds of The Singles kept students on their feet. Such popular tunes as "Billy Jean", "1999" and "New Year's Day" made the night slip by much too rapidly. The winter formal provided faculty, chaperones and students with an evening that will long be remembered.

1. APRIL WOODS and DAVE MANNING sign the guest book in the foyer. 2. JEFF CANADY and HEIDI RIEDMAN take a spin on the dance floor. 3. LISA EDWARDS, GREG ERNST, KRIS LEIDICH and CHRISSIE DROWN make a great foursome. 4. JEFF NIELSEN and ROBIN THOMAS show the crowd how to dance. 5. JULIE BAKER and JOHN SALAZAR take time out to listen to the music. 6. Everybody rocks to the beat of THE SINGLES. 7. SAM MAYBERRY gazes at GLORIA ELLIOTT adoringly. 8. LISA FULTON and her date had a wonderful time. 9. TONYA GOEHNER and RON DAVIS enjoy a quiet moment between dances.

NJ/ROTC

The NJ/ROTC unit had its most successful year since its inception seventeen years ago. The unit membership was at an all-time high. Although the unit was judged by its Navy sponsors to be one of the best in the nation and was commended for its high level of academic achievement, there was also sadness in the air. The original naval science instructor, LCDR. Roy Johnson announced his retirement. At the annual final review in May, the commander was honored by the presence of an all-alumni platoon. The 1984 NJ/ROTC Unit traveled throughout the state with its prize-winning silent precision drill team and color guard.

1. Cadet LCDR MATT CLARK and the officer staff and color guard. 2. LCDR JOHNSON, Ret., retires after seventeen years at LHS. 3. JOHN TOMSLICK learns the intricacies of the helm-engine telegraph. 4. JEFF PYOTT conducts a helmet inspection with the help of MICHELLE STEDHAM. 5. The LHS NJ/ROTC Silent Precision Drill Team, LTJG ROBERT CANNON, Commander. 6. The NJ/ROTC Petty Officers and Color Guard. 7. The NJ/ROTC UNIT with instructors LCDR ROY JOHNSON and MASTER CHIEF LEROY BORCHARDT. 8. The Lakewood High School Color Guard. 9. MCPO BORCHARDT inspects the troops. 10. MICHELLE STEDHAM and DAN MADRID stow their weapons in the armory.

D.E.C.A./Stage Crew

D.E.C.A. — Distributive Education Clubs of America — was among the most active groups at LHS. The aim of its new leader, Mr. Eugene Melvin, was to teach students the fine points of salesmanship. The operation of the student store was the primary source of knowledge for these budding businessmen. In addition, they spent long hours perfecting their presentations for competition.

Behind the scenes of many succesful events, including plays, rallies, homecoming, the musical and assemblies, were the unsung heroes of the school. The dedicated stage crew members, under the adept leadership of Mr. Curtis Gathe and Mr. Mike Stobbe, built intricate sets which highlighted the events. No group worked as hard for the school as did the 1984 stage crew!

1. DENA WIDENER keeps the kernels popping. 2. STEVE JOHNSON prepares one of the house specialties. 3. DAN ZUKOWSKI dreams of owning his own business. 4. D.E.C.A. Officers, D. ZUKOWSKI, M. CULLEN, S. EDWARDS, R. SALAZAR, S. JOHNSON, D. CARPENTER. 5. The D.E.C.A. class. 6. ROBERT PELIERIN raises the curtain for act III. 7. JIM WILLIAMSON and RON WARREN bring up the house lights. 8. RON BAKER "dresses" the set. 9. MR. GATHE and MR. STOBBE talk over last minute details. 10. The 1984 Stage Crew. 11. JULIE DEL CARPINI puts the finishing touches on a sign.

Varsity Football

The varsity football team recorded its finest season in sixteen years; although they began the year as underdogs, their finesse and outstanding play earned them the championship. Pre-season play saw Lakewood surpass such noteworthy opponents as Artesia, Paramount and St. John Bosco. Superior coaching and long hours of practice were evident as the team entered the tough league competition. Lakewood was undaunted; they finished the season undefeated, with a tie with Poly. A coin toss made the Lancers the official Moore League champions. Lakewood then began the CIF playoffs as the number three seed. In the opening game, they squeaked by Eisenhower 10-6. In a re-match with arch-nemesis Bishop Amat, the Lancers succumbed to a California tie-breaker in overtime, 14-7. All-City players Brad Steveson, Jeff Nielsen, John Salazar, Ted Malley, Tom Busch, Marty Galvan, Mike Oliverio, Reggie Starks, Rick Stallings, and Rhett Chronister were a tribute to the entire coaching staff. No one person could stand above the rest as they worked together during the best season in years.

JV/Sophomore Football

Lakewood High School's junior varsity football team, led by the fine coaching of Mr. Gene Melvin, posted one of the most successful seasons in the history of the school. Their undefeated record of 8-0-1 was only slightly marred by a 6-6 tie with Jordan, a team with whom they shared the coveted crown of league champions. The offensive attack was led by the effective duo of Rick Wildt and Brian Presswood. Other standouts included Steve Rodriquez at wide receiver and sophomore sensation Scott Ewart at running back. Junior linebaker Mike Hansard led the balanced defensive attack. The sophomore squad had a disappointing season. Despite long workouts and excessive determination, points on the scoreboard were tough to come by. These gridders finished the season with an overall 1-5-1 record; quarterback Kevin Haggerty and center Matt Stallings led the way.

Boys' Soccer

Undefeated in pre-season play, the boys' soccer team faced well-experienced and skilled competition. Things got off to a great start as the Lancers triumphed over Santa Fe 17-1. The Christmas recess saw the team compile victory after victory. In the Moore League opener, Captain Cameron Beaulac led the Lancers to a 6-0 win over Jordan. The Jackrabbits presented more of a problem as the match with Poly ended in a draw. The climax of the season was the Lakewood versus Millikan match. The arch-rivals squared off on a eighty degree January afternoon. With precise passing and an agressive pace, LHS defeated the Rams 2-1. The league championship was certainly in sight. The JVs meanwhile were emulating the varsity's success. The skilled and competitive group racked up numerous victories, with only one defeat. Their outstanding record can be attributed to hard work and great team effort.

1. MIKE PAULSON dives to block an attempted shot. 2. Leaping high into the air, CAMERON BEAULAC beats his opponent to the ball. 3. Girls' Soccer

Although bad weather and skilled teams made pre-season competition difficult for Lakewood, the Lancers played aggressively and turned in respectable performances. In their first league outting, the Lancers drubbed the Panthers 8-0. They went on to defeat every team in the Moore League with the exception on Wilson, who beat them in the last game of the first round. The season came down to the last league meeting. Once again the Bruins played the spoiler role by beating Lakewood 2-1. Second place in league was good enough to earn the team a CIF berth where they met Rio Mesa and lost 1-0 in a heartbreaker. The JV team was a powerhouse throughout the year. Lakewood remained undefeated, even though only two other schools fielded JV teams. A close call with arch-rival Wilson in the final game resulted in a 3-3 tie. The JV Lancers claimed with pride their second consecutive Moore League championship.

1. CHERYL COBB'S speed enables her to out-pace her opponent. 2. ALANA SHAW kicks the ball to the forward line. 3. BRENDA FONSECA makes an outstanding kick to the goal. 4. Wrestling

The varsity wrestling team had a very successful season. The strength of the team was evident as it finished in the top three positions in every tournament it attended. A strong nucleus of four outstanding wrestlers was the key ingredient in the accomplishments turned in by the entire team. Joe Adams, Julio Reyes, Brian Farber and Robert Lassers, all of whom qualified for CIF by winning Moore League titles, were the wrestlers who provided the necessary leadership. Dan Rangel, in his first season, wrestled to a 21-6 record. Novice coach John Hennigan provided the expertise and guidance as the team finished third in the Moore League. A very young junior varsity team, coached by Robert Jurgensen, consisted of thirteen sophomores to fill the thirteen weight classifications. They made up in determination what they lacked in experience. Outstanding JV grapplers included John Mario, Dave Teresi and Eric Wesson.

Boys' Gymnastics

There is probably no sport at Lakewood High School that requires as much physical strength, stamina, finesse and endurance as does gymnastics. The Lakewood gymnasts have won more league and CIF titles than any other team. The leader to whom much of the credit is due for the team's success is Coach Richard Flood. He and the gymnasts spent long and grueling hours practicing the various maneuvers. The squad proved itself especially strong this year on the rings, side-horse and uneven parallell bars. Outstanding members of the team included Steven Barndt, Kokeng Taing, Craig Jones, Steve Ayers, Eric Weeks and Robert Salazar. The floor excerises were a speciality of Hugo Jarquin. Overall, this strong squad of superior athletes garnered many prizes on their way toward their goal of another Moore League championship.

Varsity Basketball

Every Lancer who watched a varsity basketball game could attest to the dedication of the players, the skills of the coaach and the determinaation shown by both. The Lancers were plagued by key injuries suffered by starting junior center, Jim Donelson, and senior guard, John Salazar. The overall record of 6-17 and league tally of 1-9 contrasted sharply with the long hard hours spent in daily practices. The bulk of the team was composed of promising underclassmen. The hoopsters were led by co-captain John Salazar and Andre Lebeauf, averaging 13.5 and 15.1 points per game, respectively. The highlight of the season was an emotional victory over a strong Compton squad in the first round of league, 52-51. Other key contributors to the team were Bill Putren, Leroy Saafir, Steve Sears and Troy Hammel.

1. On the fast break, LEROY SAAFIR prepares to add two points to the Lancers' score. 2. STEVE SEARS outsmarts a Jordan opponent. 3. JV/Soph./Soph. Reserve Basketball

The junior varsity basketball team had its share of difficulties during the season; however, sportsmanship and fast play were evident in every game. The squad, coached by Chuck Stoner, had high hopes of entering league play because of their second place finish in the Rolling Hills tournament which boasted a strong field. The Lancers rolled to an overall 5-19 season, with a league record of 1-9. The hoopsters were led by the offensive acoring of Eric Sims and Pat Benko. Pre-season play saw the sophomores compile a 8-5 record. League proved more difficult and their 2-8 season placed them fifth in the Moore League. The squad, under the expert coaching of Jack Krebs, was led by Randy Wise and Darrin Wood on offense and Victor Magpoc on defense. The mighty sophomore reserves posted the only winning record for the boys. With excellent league marks of 8-2 the players were able to place second in league. Eric Vitwar, Joe Macpoc and Eric Neel were pivotal to the Lancers' success.

1. ERIC SIMS seems to have the upper hand. 2. BOB SELLERS and MIKE ROMERO battle for a rebound against arch-rival Millikan. 3. Sophomore standout BILL LUND gets an easy two. 4. Girls' Basketball

The girls' varsity basketball team, under the expert guidance of Coach Lawson, turned in one of the best seasons of recent years. Skill and determination were two of the qualities which led them to one-point victories over always-awesome Poly and Gahr high schools. The lady Lancers were led by standouts forward Jill Wells, guard Kathy Johnson, forward Cynthia Robinson, center Russia Madden, and guard Paula Brodeur. Sharp shooting helped pace the team to an overall 18-8 record. After a successful game in the first round of CIF, the Lancers faced Morningside High School which dashed their hopes by a 62-69 score. Coach Moore did her best to keep the JV spirits high as the team made a valiant effort to go into the win column. Outstanding players Connie Brodeur, Nicole Leonard, Sharon McGiffert and Suzanne Nowell gave their best in a disappointing season which saw plenty of good play.

Water Polo

Led by Coach Nicholson and Captain Keith Austin, the Lakewood water polo teams posted one of the best seasons in years. The climax of the season was the Millikan game, an 11-4 victory for the undefeated Lancers. In that match, Austin scored three points, while Robert Alves, Mark Bolla and John Berg made two goals each. Lakewood lost to a tough Wilson team, placing second in league and gaining a CIF berth. The determined group lost to powerful Villa Park in its final outing. All-City selections Kristian Leidich and Robert Alves were important ingredients in the success of the team. Great talent was shown on the JV and sophomore teams as well. Outstanding performances by Scott Coffee, Chris Shean and Scott Wisdom helped the JVs place third in league. The sophomores finished fourth in the Moore League under the guidance of Coach Marilyn Taylor.

Swimming

The boys' varsity swim team showed excellent potential, and, as the season began, proved their strength in their performances. The Lancer men were led by senior standout Kristian Leidich and his younger brother, Kerry, another awesome swimmer. Chris Shean and John Berg also lent great strength to Coach Nicholson's team. Under the careful direction of new coach Marilyn Taylor, the JVs and sophomores also excelled. With the shouts of an angry coach, the girls' swim team hustled from the locker room and into the pool at 6:00 a.m. every morning. With the will and determination, this team should prove to be champions. In their first two meets against Costa Mesa and Cypress, the Lancers were victorious. Cross Country

The compilation of a nearly perfect season enabled the cross country team to become Moore League champions. Outstanding distance men such as Jose Quintana and Mark Ortiz led the pack as it dominated almost every match. The culmination of the season was a strong seventh place finish by team members in CIF competition held at Mt. Sac. A perfect season (5-0) was turned in by an extremely strong JV squad. Brian Evans and John Crone gave exceptional performances to keep the Lancers out in front. The strong desire to win brought the team a seasonal sweep and a well-deserved league crown. All-Moore League runners included Jose Quintana, Doug Barton and Joe Perez. The distaff side of the cross country contingent was proud of the many individual accomplishments gained during the season. The outstanding running of Jamie Barcus, Roberta Maricich, Anna McComber and Sonya Torres was good for a fourth place finish in league competition.

1. DOUG BARTON shows fine form as he leads the Lancers to another victory. 2. JOE QUINTANA holds the lead by himslef. 3. The Varsity Cross Country Team. 4. Track

The boys' track team was filled with talent this year. Jose Quintana, who led the Lancers in the distance events, proved to be one of the fastest milers in league history. Marcus Hooks displayed his talents for both the long and triple jump, a double threat at any meet. Other tracksters such as Ted Cablayan, Peterson Challenger and John Guthridge gave the team balance as they competed in the 100 yard dash, 440 and 440 relays. All in all, the team efforts of the boys' track team were outstanding this year and helped to pace them to many victories. Coach Cape, in her first year as the girls' track coach, inspired her athletes to turn in some outstanding performances. In their first meet, the girls blitzed a talented Arcadia team. The girls then progressed to the Mira Costa Relays where they garnered numerous medals. Outstanding runners such as Teri Blake, Latanya Walker, Lazette Scott, Lydia Devine and Kathy Johnson were the heart of the team.

Varsity Baseball

"Who is the new baseball coach?" That was an often-asked question during the first semester. Long-time head coach John Herbold, the most successful baseball coach in Moore League history, resigned to take the same position with Cal State L.A. The question finally was answered late in January when Walter "Spud" O'Neil, the former Colton coach who had kept Herbold out of the CIF playoffs for the last two years, was named Lakewood's new leader. With only two weeks at the helm before the first game, Coach O'Neil whipped the Lancers into an outstanding group of players. Led by Dan Bryan and Matt Elliott, Lakewood won a convincing opener against La Habra. Under the controlled pitching of Don Herrell, the team returned to Westminster for a 5-2 victory. Senior outfielder Jeff Laing proved to be a hero with his sixth inning double which rescued the win. They then swept Marina High in a double header, a good indication of the team's strength as it entered league competition.

The junior varsity baseball team provided solid and exciting play for Lakewood fans. Coached in the fundamentals by Matty Lampson, the team has provided most of the talent for the varsity for years. The Lancers have collected more JV Moore League crowns than any other high school; 1984 would prove to be a continuation of their successful ways. There were only three returning starters, Rick Medina, Pat May and Sammy Briscoe, who formed the nucleus of the team. A fresh crop of sophomores rounded out the squad. Pre-season play saw the Lancers sweep their opponents, as indicated by their 5-1 record. After fifteen years, super-coach Matty Lampson could still be counted on to turn out some of the best players in the Moore League.

1. Base hits were numerous for hitting ace RICK MEDINA. 2. PAT MAY makes a great dig. 3. Few balls get past catcher GLENN DAVIS. 4. RON HALL rips one through the gap. 5. Softball

Unity and experience proved to be the strong points of this year's Lancer softball teams. The varsity could boast of nine returning players, including all six infielders. Junior pitcher Kay Hadley proved to be a weapon to be reckoned with as the team began its pre-season by going 4-0. Other team standouts included seniors Jill Wells, Andrea Chace and Paula Brodeur; however, every member of the team was an integral part in every victory. It promised to be strong contender for the Moore League crown again in 1984. The junior varsity team also enjoyed an outstanding pre-season. With team leaders like Chrissie Strong, Bonnie Cooper and Maria Moore, the ladies were particularly strong. Strong's pitching kept opponents on their toes, while the entire team rocketed hits past the infield. A promising league showing was certainly in their future.

1. JODI BLAKE makes the out at second base. 2. On the mound, KAY HADLEY throws another series of strikes. 3. Low and inside — ANDREA BRADY has a good eye. 4. JILL WELLS rounds third as she heads for the plate. 5. The Varsity Softball Team. 6. LISA GOLDMAN steals home on a wild pitch. 7. The "squeeze" is on as LISA COLLISON lays down a bunt. 8. Girls' Gymnastics

The gymnastics team, coached by supercoach Cathy Allars, was one of the most competitive groups on campus. After untold hours of practice, the girls entered and won match after match in their quest for the Moore League Championship. The events they specialized in required skill, strength, poise and grace. Floor exercises, vault routines, beam maneuvers and events on the uneven parallel bars were among the highlights of the gymnastics' year. Outstanding gymnasts included Carin Galleta, Robin Bancroft, Nancy Redman and Kelly Bell. An effort by all of the girls was instrumental in the success of this year's gymnastics teams.

1. ROBIN BANCROFT shows excellent from while performing her floor routine. 2. CARIN GALETTA, KELLY BELL, ROBIN BANCROFT and NANCY REDMAN were four of the most talented gymnasts. 3. Dance

Dance was the one performing art that required poise and grace in addition to talent. The dancers were carefully trained in both the rudiments and the finer points of the art by dance director Debra Svopa. Many hours were spent perfecting routines, readying costumes, learning steps, polishing basic skills and learning the synchronization necessary to dance with a group. The dancers gave performances throughout the year; however, the highlight of the year happened when the combined talents of four dance classes were pooled for a tremendous show: "No Parking on Our Dance Floor!" Lisa Fulton, Kim Sadler, Michelle Lott, Dana Hooten and Kathy Walsh gave particularly memorable performances. Every Lancer was very proud of the fine work done by the dancers.

Tennis

The Lancer tennis teams had one of the most successful seasons in memory. With the skillful aid of coaches Jack Krebs and Phil Riley, the varsity and JV squads doubled up to win victory after victory. The talent, determination and winning instinct combined with a love of the game provided the necessary ingredients for a winning season. Outstanding efforts were put forth by Greg Siemons, Brad Ugolini and Bill Price. Meanwhile, the Lancer ladies were kept on the ball by head coach Patricia Gonzales. The season went exceptionally well except for two heartbreaking loses to Millikan. A third place finish in league was good enough to advance the girls to CIF play-offs. Among the standouts were Monica DeCillis, Kristen Kohlhaas, Lori Shrotman and Jennifer Djie.

Badminton/Golf

Badminton and golf were two of Lakewood's least recognized sports. Although there were no frills and no crowds to cheer the athletes, the participants in these sports were rewarded with the knowledge of how well they had performed. Beyond self-satisfaction, there was also the praise given by expert coaches Patricia Gonzales and Thomas Gough. In the badminton arena, the varsity and JVs both held high hopes for league crowns. Such standouts as Donna Pehoski, Linda Stroh and Terry Aguilar played pivotal roles for the varsity squad. Out on the links, things proved a bit tougher for the golf teams. Arch-rival Millikan was the team's number one nemesis. Good weather this spring allowed the teams to complete every match and the fairways were the perfect place to show improvement. The team was led by Matt Paul, along with top flight golfers such as Pat Benko and Dave Sargeant.

Volleyball

Pre-season play in volleyball was somewhat disappointing, but it was no indication of the excitement to come. The team placed second in both the Millikan and Artesia tournaments, losing to Wilson and St. Joseph in the finals. During the season, the Lancers proved to be an eager and polished team. Led by standouts Crissy Turner, Chris Drown and Jill Wells, the Lancers sailed through the first round until it met always-tough Wilson. In a five game set, the Bruins were finally victorious, 12-15, 16-14, 9-15, 15-7, 9-15. After this heartbreaker, the team headed for CIF playoffs against Hacienda Heights, which they beat 3-1, and La Quinta to whom they lost, 3-1. The JVs had a difficult season, but showed courage and determination in every game. Their efforts were enough to earn them a fourth place in the Moore League. Fine play by Kay Hadley, Lisa Lombardi and Barb Taylor helped keep the spirits high.

1. ROSEMARY GARD concentrates on her set. 2. SHELLEY DROWN blocks a Panther defender. 3. JILL WELLS prepares a spike on an unsuspecting Jordan defense. 4. Helen Z. Hansen
Principal

Helen Z. Hansen began the school year with definite goals that she wanted to achieve. She placed a great emphasis on instilling in the staff the qualities of high expectations, leadership, determination and firmness. A continuation of the program to reduce classroom interruptions was one of her goals. The school-wide policy of improving students' writing skills in every discipline was a pilot program of which she was justly proud. The introduction of the district's Program of Recognition of Academic Students of Excellence (PRASE) was a major accomplishment of the administrative team. The success of her leadership was attested to by the fact that LHS scored higher than any other district high school on the California Test of Basic Skills. After four and one-half years, Mrs. Hansen was promoted to be Assistant Superintendent, Personnel Services Division. Her indelible imprint was the academic excellence that she brought to Lakewood High School.

Donald D. Hopkins
Principal

On January 5, 1984, Donald Hopkins became the fourth principal in Lakewood's history. His arrival signaled both a continuation of past policies and the introduction of new programs. The emphasis on honing writing skills was carried forward by the new leader. He also instituted the mandatory attendance policy for the school. Although it was unusual to take the helm at mid-year, Mr. Hopkins made the transition a smooth one. He became involved with every facet of the school. His classroom visits, his presence in the quad during lunch, his active support of the sports program, his open-door office policy, his ability to communicate and his outgoing personality combined to make Mr. Hopkins an important part of Lancer life.

1. MR. HOPKINS approves of the journalistic styles of JODI BLAKE and MR. GARRETSON. 2. The principal checks EFRAIN GARCIA'S latest project. 3. ERIC SIMS' typing skills amaze MRS. HARVEY and MR. Administrators/Counselors

Many extra hours were spent by the administrators and counselors this year. Not only did they perform their normal duties of overseeing discipline and attendance, programming students, providing college and career information, planning and co-ordinating student activities and solving a myraid of special problems, they also implemented two new and important programs. The first took effect in November; it required students engaged in sports and extra-curricular activities to maintain a C grade point average. The second program began in January. Every student who missed ten or more days of classes was subject to have his schedule changed. The paper and telephone work resulting from these innovative programs kept administrators and counselors more than a little busy. It is to the credit of all of these dedicated professionals that the office always ran smoothly.

1. DR. SHICKLER gives GRETA WOLFE some sound advice concerning her plans for college. 2. An elated DR. ERRATT is very proud of MONICA BLASER'S quarter grade report. 3. MRS. Science

Laser beams, micro-chips and fiber optics were some of the more exciting scientific developments studied by Lancers. Besides investigating the latest discoveries, the LHS science department helped students develop the basic tools for understanding and living in an increasingly technical world. Both laboratory sessions and lectures were employed in mastering the principles of the physical, natural and life sciences. Course offerings included physics, chemistry, biology, marine biology, as well as anatomy and physiology. The science department, headed by Mr. Shafer, maintained high standards for its students. To help achieve these standards, the faculty provided information, guidance, moral support and an occasional missing equation variable. Together, science students and faculty helped make the world a little less mysterious and a lot more interesting.

1. MR. RILEY checks on ROSEMARY GARD'S scientific progress. 2. JIM KINKADE gets a pointer from MR. LAMPSON. 3. TOM LONNIE and DIANNA JONES finally catch the meaning of MR. SAUNDER'S joke. 4. Mathematics

The television commercial was quite memorable: A proud family sent its son to college with great hopes. Soon, however, a disappointed mother and father were back at the station retreiving junior who had flunked out because he lacked the necessary computer skills. To ensure that LHS grads avoided a smilar fate, Lakewood expanded its math programs. An increasing emphasis by colleges and employers on computing and mathematical skills led to several changes. The most notable innovation was the addition of twenty computer terminals and a vast expansion of the computer-related classes taught by Mr. Cramond and Mr. Flynn. The emphasis on excellence in math skills was also evident. Lancers, with the talented help of the math department, computed logarithms, established solid geometric proofs, completed algebraic equations, and mastered essential calculating skills.

1. STEVE NEWTON finds MR. STONER'S explanation of aerodynamics amusing. 2. MRS. GREENGARD gives JOHN GUTHRIDGE a helping hand with a difficult equation. 3. MR. English Excellence in communication and comprehension was stressed by the English department. More stringent high school graduation requirements, college course prerequisites and job-market needs demanded that LHS students concentrate on honing their English skills. The entire faculty became involved in the process of improving students' abilities to communicate both orally and in writing, as well as to be able to comprehend written information. Lancers were amazed at the school-wide program which required them to turn in writing assignments in every subject from physical education to chemistry. While the department emphasized grammatical skills, the entire staff was employed in an effort to have students write to the "prompt" with clarity of expression. The involvement of everybody to improve the English skills of students was a major innovation for the school and was certain to be beneficial for all.

Library/Media Center

Twenty years ago, video taping techniques and equipment were known only to industry insiders. Today, it is common for students to have a video tape recorder or camera in their living rooms. With the explosion of media products in this high technology field, the media center at LHS became one of the most popular places on campus. The sophisticated electronic gear was instrumental in increasing student awareness in many disciplines. Although books have been around for centuries, the LHS library was anything but dull. Constant up-dating and change kept Lancers current on many topics. The collection of bound and reference materials continued to expand, making the library the ideal place to do research as well as to read for pleasure. The expert guidance of the librarian, Mrs. Cooke, and media expert, Mrs. Guinn, were integral parts in helping students in the library.

1. SAM BRISCOE enjoyed English the way MR. NORTHEN taught it. 2. MR. PIKOP amuses his class with a very olde English joke. 3. DON LEVESQUE is unsure of MR. ESL/Foreign Language

The study of a new language was a challenging, frustrating, rewarding and fun experience. English as a second language students faced the extra task of using their new language on a daily basis. This not only required extra effort, but made each moment a kind of homework assignment. Yet, under the patient direction of the ESL teachers, these Lancers achieved a special kind of success and a true appreciation of what "Lancer Pride" was all about. However, for most Lancers, the foreign language was Spanish, German or French. These classes often tested the memory as students struggled to recall verb tenses and grammatical terms. The teachers used lab instruments, special projects, repetition and a great deal of patience to help Lancers master new vocabularies, pronunciations and language principles.

1. MUY KAING and JORGE TORRES listen intently to MRS. SWAYZE'S vocabulary lesson. 2. MANY PHLONG, JAMIE QUIZON and LOIS SANCHEZ are enthralled by MR. DE CORDES' explanation of ranching. 3. MR. Social Studies

With strategic nuclear arms deployment in Europe, the use of the U.S. Marines as part of a multi-national peacekeeping force in Lebanon, the U.S. invasion of Grenada, the return of a captured U.S. pilot from Syria, and the 1984 presidential and congressional elections, the students in social studies classes had plenty of fodder for heated debates and discussions. While current events dealt with the present happenings of the world, history classes concentrated on the importance of the past. Political science stressed the components and functions of local, state and federal governmental units. Criminal law, an especially popular offering, apprised Lancers of the types of restrictions placed on society, as well as the effects of criminal behavior. Economics taught Lancers the way money works, production rules and stock market functions. The department sought to give its students an understanding of the forces that have shaped the world, the nation and themselves.

Business Education

Although the skills required to compete successfully in the business world changed almost daily, the Lakewood business teachers kept pace. With the advent of word processing, electronic mail and high tech data terminals, it was necessary for Lancers to increase the amount of time they spent learning the skills needed in the business world. The basic skills, such as typing, shorthand and business machine operation remained requisites for the aspiring students. Under the guidance of a strong group of teachers, students put their talents to use in a wide variety of simulated and real business situations. One of the most popular of these "applied" courses was Project INvest, an innovative program designed to teach the insurance business. From insurance to interest computation, this was the department that imparted skills which enabled Lancers to compete after graduation.

General/Special Education

The Lakewood general studies students were offered a wide variety of courses. Lancers learned the essential driving skills and the rules of the road in drivers' education. Health classes provided the opportunity to learn about the complexities of the human body and how to keep it healthy. Career choices were also explored by the energetic sophomores. Special education teachers sought to deal with the "whole" child as they taught across a broad spectrum of disciplines. Remedial work in several academic areas was offered by this outstanding department. However, students with emotional and social problems were dealt with as well. The special education instructors worked as a support group to better enable special education students to succeed in all areas of their lives, both in and out of school.

Home Economics/Art/Music

The extremely popular coeducational home economics program taught the basics of good nutrition, child development, clothing construction, as well as creative living. Advanced foods class was a well-received offering; it concentrated on concocting delicious meals from soup to nuts. More than half of all Lancers took advantage of at least one of the excellent and diverse classes before graduating. The art and music departments offered Lancers the opportunity to discover and express their creative talents. Art courses included drawing and painting, advanced art and crafts. Musicians at Lakewood could select from a wide range of classes. The vocal and instrumental sections of the department combined for such 1984 highlights as the Christmas program and the spring musical. Excellence in the execution of musical numbers was attested to by the many first place finishes turned in by the department.

1. Effective Living students EVANGELINA PRECIADO and DENISE KORBAL shine in MISS FRANK'S class. 2. Gourmet delights prepared by RUBEN KAWAMURA and WALTER REECE are examined by MRS. PATTERSON. 3. DEBBIE RUSSELL was never puzzled in Parent and Child because MRS. MC EACHEN was always there with a helping hand. 4. MRS. BRIGGS helps CATHY WELCH and YVONNE SNOW with their calligraphy lesson. 5. MR. SCHOONOVER puts the final touches on STEVE AYERS' silver ring. 6. MR. CLEMENS was one of the most expressive and stimulating teachers at Lakewood. 7. SPENCER HARRIS listens as MR. HANNAN explains the mechanics of the clarinet.

Industrial Arts

The Lakewood High School industrial arts teachers blended theory and practice to teach students practical skills and to provide them with a technical understanding of the subject being studied. With the advent of micro-chips, R-factors, computerized type-setting and lathes which possessed memories, the world of industrial arts became a high tech learning experience. The department prided itself on its ability to teach a variety of skills that could be directly transferred to a good job after graduation. The fine points of auto mechanics, electronics, woods, drafting and metals were given careful consideration. Both the students and the "IA" faculty put in long, extra hours perfecting techniques and polishing projects. Combined, they showed how "Lancer Pride" was built.

1. Any kind of electronics problems could be solved as long as BRIAN HAMMOND and MR. PATTEN were on the job. 2. MR. KREBS is overjoyed that RAY DARBY discovered the meaning of "line quality". 3. Sheet metal projects were a point of pride for THOO YER, GILBERTO FERNANDEZ and MR. STOBBE. 4. MR. NORTH supervises ROBERT VALENCIA'S use of the jig saw. 5. PAT MC CANN, MR. HAMILTON and DAVID AHUMADA are shocked at ADINA MC CATHRON'S knowledge of piston placement. 6. MR. HOWEY points out the proper dimensions to RAMIRO PUENTES. 7. MR. ZAPP explains the importance of tight spokes to STEVE JEFFORDS.

Physical Education

A former exchange student once remarked that his proudest accomplishment at Lakewood High School was "passing P.E." The department maintained some of the highest standards in the school. One of the goals of the P.E. teachers was to have students learn a physical activity which could be used long past graduation. With a national emphasis on fitness and proper nutrition, more students were able to understand the concerns of the teachers. The variety of the program was amazing; everything from a popular power volleyball course to badminton for beginners was offered. With the expert coaching, encouraging and refreeing of the Lakewood physical education staff, Lancers utilized their required daily hour of exercise and competition to stay fit, trim and healthy.

1. COACH ARBOGAST supervises JOHN SALAZAR and CORY THURBER as they pump iron in weights class. 2. Students listen attentively as COACH ALLARS explains the spike to her power volleyball class. 3. MERIT NORIT learns the correct way to play paddletennis from COACH CHANDLER. 4. COACH CAPE and her students really got into the swim of things. 5. J.J. MATSON pays more attention to the camera than to COACH HENNINGAN during instructions on how to lift weights properly. 6. MIKE COX listens carefully as COACH BRESNAHAN tells the importance of suiting-up every day. 7. COACH MEYER takes a break before his next class. 8. The varsity water polo team gets a quick pep talk from COACH NICHOLSON.

Classified Staff

Lakewood High School, with its enrollment of over 2,500 students in addition to the 158 staff members, was a big, busy place. One of the primary reasons it operated so smoothly was because of the excellent work and constant support of the classified staff. Not only did they accomplish their assigned work, they freely answered questions and lent a helping hand to any student who needed it. The classified staff was appreciated for all of the things, large and small, they did to make life at LHS a little nicer.

1. Administrators' Secretaries: MARY ANN STUMP, ELEANOR TURNER, DONNA TAYLOR and MARY CAROL BAKER. 2. Counseling Secretaries: WILLEENE BAILEY, JOULE BROD and MILLIE BUEHLER. 3. The Events of 1984

1. The final episode of M*A*S*H was a heartbreaking event for the 125 million viewers who watched it. 2. NANCY REAGAN tells SANTA "T" what she wants for Christmas. 3. Everyone was proud as VANESSA WILLIAMS became the first black Miss America. 4. Over 250 U.S. MARINES lost their lives in Lebanon as a terrorist drove a truck full of explosives into their compound. 5. The CABBAGE PATCH DOLL craze exploded during the holiday season as frantic shoppers paid upwards of $150 for one. 6. MICHAEL JACKSON'S "Thriller" album netted him eight American Music Awards. 7. The Soviet Union cruely shot Korean Airline Flight 007 from the air, killing all aboard. 8. The deployment of new nuclear weapons in Europe sparked heated debate, especially after the television debut of "The Day After". 9. JENNIFER BEALS danced her way to stardom and set a new clothing trend. 10. MIKE FITZGERALD, a LHS graduate, became the 48th major league player to hit a home run his first time at bat. 11. Los Angeles was honored to host the 1984 Summer Olympic games. 12. Arson was suspected as fire raged through a LHS bungalow causing $100,000 in damage.

Hey Rob
I'm really glad I met you this year. It seems like we've been friends forever * you're a really funny guy and a real pro enjoy being with you. The pro was a blast! I'm glad you guys with us to the Bronx! What a blast!
know you'll see your sister and it you go to Santa Barbara this summer. I'll see you you're on just a great guy * I love you me some way! Love always & T.T. 435-6738
Chrissie (11)
Drown
Rob, you lots! Call

Rob,
How's it going?
I can't wait till summer so I can come to your house. I'm so glad I met you this year cause you're a cool person. I liked watching your wrestling matches cause I thought you were good! I'm awesome during the season, but now I know I can kick your butt. see ya in the summer. see ya!
Jim Clancy

Rob (Magic)
what am I gonna do with out you? Nobody to laugh with! Pardon Me! I'v been a great year I hate to see it end! All three of you are a terrific ball player (with out the ball) Let's not let summer stop our being friends!
KIT 425-2733
Bell Tutter

Rob, you funny guy!
It's been cool being your friend these past two years. You've got cool musical taste, too! Well I'll see you this summer, and you have a great college career + life OK?
See you around

Rob dogg
How's it goin' dawg? I don't know if you are I'll be able to make it to your house this summer but I hope you do good in College and I'm sure you'll have fun in Syracuse!
Mike Paulson

Hey Rob!

Rob, we have had some classics. Rob, B4 I bag on you, I have to say you are a good person. I am glad we are good friends. You are kind, and I know you have some good intentions. And you're pretty good at trivial pursuit. So Rob, I know I bag on you and everything, But I'm glad we're friends.

You drift too much. I still remember sooo many of your drifting acts. You aren't funny. I'm glad you didn't win most humorous. No Rob. Seriously, our funnest highschool days were together, and you were funny. Joker, Joker, and Sports for $200. Well Jack. T. J. Rob, I'll never forget Tijuana. And they'll never forget us. Gullivers, Vegas, Los Alamitos, Hummer, kepharts, Basketball, Irvine, etc. I'll wrap it up. Rob, it's been great. Oh yea, thanks for almost killing me in your car. I'll always wear a seatbelt the rest of my life. Thanks for all your shirts, and all your food. FACE. BAG HARD. Patience is a virtue. An apple a day.....

Gotta go Rob. Good Luck at college.

your Friend,

Jerry Friedman
